PERSONAL FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

I. INTRODUCTION

Purpose and Scope of Touchpoint Curriculum

Touchpoint Curriculum is designed to meet financial readiness Common Military Training (CMT) requirements as outlined in Directive Type Memorandum (DTM) 19-009. These CMT requirements provide Service members the common knowledge, skills, and behavior standards to enable them to manage their financial affairs in a manner that enhances financial readiness. Military Departments must provide Service members financial literacy training in accordance with the personal and professional touchpoints across the military life cycle identified in Section 992(a) of Title 10, U.S.C. Table 1 of this DTM establishes standard minimum Terminal Learning Objectives (TLOs) required at each touchpoint, consistent with DoDI 1322.31.

Touchpoint Curriculum is used by the U.S. Coast Guard to provide a life cycle/career cycle approach to financial literacy training, ensuring just-in-time information is provided to Service members where and when they need it. The Personal Financial Management Program (PFMP) is recognized as the strongest link between a member and his or her successful financial future. As a Command Financial Specialist (CFS), you will be the subject matter expert at your command. You will provide basic budgeting, information referrals, and proactive education and training.

IV. ACRONYMS AND ABBREVIATIONS

Acronym/Abbreviation	Full Name	Definition
DTM	Directive Type Memorandum	It is designed to meet financial readiness Common Military Training (CMT) requirements to provide Service members the common knowledge, skills, and behavior standards to enable them to manage their financial affairs in a manner that enhances financial readiness.
TC	Touchpoint Curriculum	Touchpoint Curriculum is the Coast Guard's version of financial literacy to meet the requirements of DTM 19-009. It includes Checklists and handouts, PowerPoint (PPT) training slides with Instructor Guide (IG), and Videos with Video Discussion Guides (VDGs).

V. TOUCHPOINT TOOLBOX: MATERIALS AND RESOURCES TO TEACH TOPIC

As a reminder, TC1 is an administrative chapter designed to provide an overview of Touchpoint Curriculum. It is not an actual Touchpoint, therefore, it will not have any products (checklists/handouts) other than the PowerPoint and Instructor Guide used during your CFS course.

All materials are available on Coast Guard CFS milSuite and FINRED websites (listed above), and DVD. Links to curriculum may change or vary locally.

Delivering the right financial training at the right time helps ensure that Service members understand the financial implications, considerations, and decisions that need to be made at each Touchpoint. The tools listed below teach the same story but let you, the PFM and CFS, tell it different ways, depending on your audience, your time allotted, or your particular teaching style. They can be mixed and matched to provide the best learning experience.

REMEMBER: Every Member should receive a signed, dated copy of the Member Checklist to verify training completion and, most importantly, to ensure they have a reference to help them navigate the financial decisions required at each Touchpoint.

PROCEDURES

1. REQUIREMENTS. The Military Departments must provide Service members financial literacy training, in accordance with the personal and professional touchpoints across the military life cycle identified in Section 992(a) of Title 10, U.S.C. Table 1 of this DTM establishes standard minimum TLOs required at each touchpoint, consistent with DoDI 1322.31. The Military Services are not required to directly replicate the TLOs in Table 1, but must show correlation to the required TLOs appropriate to the specific touchpoint in terms of learning outcomes.

a. Frequency.

(1) Training must be provided:

(a) When a Service member reaches a personal or professional touchpoint; or

(b) On an annual basis when several touchpoints occur 6 months before or after the time of delivery. Training conducted on an annual basis must include TLOs for all touchpoints the Service member has reached since the previous training, as well as those anticipated to be reached within 6 months after the time of delivery.

(2) TLOs associated with the following touchpoints may not be combined with training provided on an annual basis, as described in Paragraph 1.a.(1)(b) of this attachment, and must be provided during:

(a) Initial entry training;

(b) Leadership training;

(c) Pre- and post-deployment training; and

(d) Transition.

(3) At the Military Department's discretion, TLOs required to be provided at a Service member's first duty station, in accordance with Table 1, may be delivered during a Service member's initial entry training.

b. Delivery.

(1) Point of Delivery. Determining the appropriate point of delivery for required training is at the discretion of the Military Departments, and may include institutional training, professional military education, or unit training.

(2) Method of Delivery. Training methods of delivery may include, but are not limited to, instructor-led, computer-based, web-based, or structured self-development training, as well as training received as part of one-on-one financial counseling.

(a) If training is delivered as in-person classroom training, instructors must be adequately trained and familiar with the content to be delivered. Training pertaining to a Service member's rights and remedies under the law must be delivered by qualified legal counsel, subject to the authority of the General Counsel of the Military Department concerned or the Judge Advocate General of the Military Department concerned or, at a minimum, the materials to be presented must be reviewed and approved by such qualified legal counsel.

(b) If training is delivered through one-on-one financial counseling, such counseling must be provided in accordance with the requirements in Section 992(b) of Title 10, U.S.C. and DoDI 1342.22, pertaining to counseling on financial services provided to Service members.

(c) Training may be delivered by non-federal entities without branding or attribution to such entity and in accordance with the provisions in DoDI 1344.07.

c. Target Audience. The target audience for each touchpoint is the population that experienced, or anticipates experiencing, the event associated with the touchpoint (e.g., new Service members during initial entry training and arrival at their first duty station, and Service members preparing for or returning from deployment).

d. Standardized Training. The following standardized training curriculum must be included with training delivered by the Military Departments at the identified touchpoints in accordance with the January 27, 2017 Deputy Secretary of Defense Memorandum and DoDI 1332.35. With the exception of training specified in Paragraph 1.d.(4) of this attachment, the Military Departments may tailor training to fit within their training delivery mode, to meet the needs of their audience as long as TLOs from the standardized training and those identified in Table 1 are met. The Military Departments must deliver the following standardized training curriculum:

(1) The "Uniformed Services Blended Retirement System: Your Retirement System" training no later than 365 days after the pay entry base date for all newly accessed Service members;

(2) Training on continuation pay developed by the Military Departments in accordance with the "Blended Retirement System Training for Continuation Pay Provision Training Development Guide;"

(3) The "Blended Retirement System Lump Sum Payment Course" to Service members covered by the Blended Retirement System who are both eligible and intend to elect a lump sum of retired pay in accordance with Section 1415 of Title 10, U.S.C; and,

(4) The "Financial Planning for Transition" training in accordance with DoDI 1332.35 as part of the Transition Assistance Program.

e. Training Materials.

(1) Training materials may include, but are not limited to, lesson plans, training guides, presentation slides, infographics, pamphlets, and other materials that will be used to deliver training.

(2) The Military Departments may also use materials that are developed and released internally or by the organizations and entities listed below. However, such materials may not be used as a replacement for the training curricula identified in Paragraph 1.d. of this attachment:

(a) Departments and agencies of the Federal Government.

Five principles and how to use them

Summary for financial educators and practitioners

When you interact with people and help them work toward their money goals—and life goals—it’s important to feel confident in your approach.

How to use the five principles

The five principles outlined below can help guide your work. For example, you might use the principles as a checklist to identify how your program supports key factors that drive a person’s financial well-being. You might compare the principles to your program’s focus and decide to incorporate new insights. Or, you might seek out complementary programs to fill gaps you identify.

The principles are compiled from research on what drives people to take actions aimed at improving their money situation as well as their financial well-being, and how those drivers can be influenced by financial education. To help make the principles easy to put into practice, we talked to experts in the field and gathered feedback from financial education practitioners.

1. Know the individuals and families to be served

Financial education programs can be more effective if they are matched to people’s specific circumstances, challenges, and goals. Example: Start with an assessment tool, like the CFPB’s Financial Well-Being Scale.

2. Provide actionable, relevant, and timely information

People are more likely to absorb information if it is connected to an upcoming decision that matters to them, at the time when they can put it to use, with concrete steps they can follow. Example: Provide first-time homebuyers with information they can use to guide them through the home loan process.

3. Improve key financial skills

To put financial knowledge to use, consumers also need to build skills. Key skills include knowing when and how to find reliable information to make financial decisions, how to process the information, and how to follow through. Example: Give people simplified worksheets to help them comparison shop.

Protection Bureau

4. Build on motivation

Financial education can help people strengthen qualities and attitudes that allow them to stay motivated. You can help people focus on their own values rather than external influences, persevere in the face of obstacles, and build confidence that they can achieve their financial goals. Example: Set up a buddy system to help people stay on track.

5. Make it easy to make good decisions and follow-through

The situations people encounter can strongly influence what they actually do. You can help people follow through on their intentions by working with the influences or forces at play within their surroundings. Example: Help people set up automatic transactions that support specific goals.

Effective financial education leads to action

The five principles relate to the key drivers of financial well-being. Financial well-being can be defined and measured as a person's sense of control and freedom, with today's finances and looking toward the future.

Effective financial education can help people bridge the gap between what they want to achieve and the actions they ultimately take. The model of financial action, illustrated below, shows how knowledge, skills, motivations, and opportunities work together to support a course of action.

The model of financial action

PRINCIPLES

- 1 Know the individuals and families to be served.
- 2 Provide actionable, relevant, and timely information.
- 3 Improve key financial skills.
- 4 Build on motivation.
- 5 Make it easy to make good decisions and follow through.

For a thorough discussion of each principle, along with examples and tips, please see the full report, Effective financial education: Five principles and how to use them.

How to Access Touchpoint Training on Coast Guard e-Learning
